

The Garden City Historical Society Board of Trustees has selected Preservation Architect Page Ayres Cowley of Page Ayres Cowley Architecture, to prepare a building report, which will serve as the basis for construction work, and has partnered with local contractor Vinny Muldoon, Old World Quality Corp.

RESTORATION WORK BEGINS HERE!

Restoration will begin at the Widow's Walk, and include roof repairs, windows and doors, exterior painting, electrical work, and driveway and parking lot repairs.

introduces the Gala Benefit Honorees:*

Nicholas P. Episcopia

Nick's 19 years of service to Garden City as Mayor, Deputy Mayor, Trustee, Executive Board Member of the Nassau County Village Officials Association, and as EPOA President, Vice President and Director, reflect his dedication to preserving our Village's heritage and quality of life. For example, responding to residents' concerns, he took steps to strengthen the Building Code, safeguarding the character of Village neighborhoods. A loyal supporter, Nick was instrumental in arranging for the Historical Society to be the centerpiece of a BBC TV segment filmed in Garden City.

Vinny Muldoon

Founding Old World Quality Corp. with his wife Dina in 1994, Vinny specializes in restoring old homes and building new ones with all the modern amenities. So it's clear that he's the perfect partner for The Garden City Historical Society in the campaign to restore its Museum's exterior, which this May gala benefits. He is well known for his pro bono repairs to the St. Paul's clock tower, for completing the Village's 9/11 Memorial, for refurbishing the Chamber's historic "Toll Lodge" offices, and for spearheading fundraisers for families in need.

Brian Pinnola

With a passion for architecture and history, Brian has devoted countless hours in service to the Historical Society for over 20 years as trustee, vice president, president (an unprecedented 8 years), and chair of the Building and Archives/Acquisitions Committees. He has led walking tours of the Village's historic district, managed numerous informative lectures, and is the Society's go-to person for all things great and small. Having overseen the Museum's interior restoration, he will again play a role in the exterior project. Brian also serves on the Boards of SPLIA (Long Island regional preservation) and the Rockaway Development and Revitalization Corp.
